MEMORANDUM FOR ALL UNITED STATES ARMY INFANTRY CENTER AND FORT BENNING SOLDIERS/ STUDENTS

SUBJECT: Fort Benning Standards

1. Standards, and compliance with those standards, are what makes the Infantry Center and Fort Benning the premier installation in the Army. Each of us has a personal responsibility to know what the standards are and ensure we meet them.
2. The Command Sergeants Major have crafted this document to ensure everyone is aware of post standards. They apply to everyone on Fort Benning regardless of their status. Noncommissioned officers are charged with enforcement of standards, and I wholeheartedly support them in this endeavor.

MEMORANDUM FOR ALL MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY INFANTRY CENTER AND FORT BENNING

SUBJECT: Fort Benning Standards

1. The primary goal of Fort Benning Student Handout 21-10 (Standards of Appearance and Conduct) is to guide and reinforce the high standards of conduct and appearance for all soldiers at Fort Benning. The soldiers of the United States Army Infantry Center are highly disciplined and set the example for a majority of the military forces in the world.
2. These standards do not represent all the regulatory guidance governing the individual soldier. They highlight certain items found in DA Regulations and the standards applicable to the United States Army Infantry Center and Fort Benning.
3. Compliance with these standards is basic to the discipline of all of our soldiers. It is important that we have pride in one's self and unit. I appreciate your dedication and support of our fighting force.

Purpose: The purpose of this pamphlet is to inform all Soldiers stationed, visiting, or training at Fort Benning, Georgia of the basic standards of behavior and appearance established by Army Regulations and Fort Benning policies. Mission: Fort Benning's mission is to provide the Nation with—

The world's best Infantry Soldiers and trained units.

A power projection platform capable of deploying and redeploying Soldiers, civilians, and units anywhere in the world on short notice.

The Army's premier installation and home for Soldiers, families, civilian employees, and military retirees.

HISTORY OF FORT BENNING

Henry Lewis Benning, for whom Fort Benning was named, saw careers as a Soldier, attorney, politician, and justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. A native Georgian, Benning's career began in Columbus in 1835 when he set up residence and began practicing law. At the age of 39, two years after his unsuccessful campaign for Congress, he was elected associate justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. He was the youngest man to hold that office.

Benning was a staunch advocate of states rights and took a prominent part in the conventions concerning secession prior to the War Between the States.

With the start of the War Between the States, Benning recruited men to form the 17th Regiment of Georgia Volunteers. During the first year and a half of the war, he fought with General Robert E. Lee and attained the rank of major general. Because of his coolness in battle, he became known to his troops as "Old Rock." After the war, Benning returned to his law practice in Columbus where he died in 1875 at the age of 61.

For 75 years Fort Benning has been known as the “Home of the Infantry.” It is here that the famed United States Army Infantry School was established and through the years emerged as the most influential Infantry center in the modern world. Fort Benning and the Infantry School are so intertwined that it is virtually impossible to trace the history of Fort Benning without recording the evolution of the school. From 1918 until the present, the development of Fort Benning has been directly proportional to the progress of the school. Throughout the years, the mission of Fort Benning and the Infantry School has remained fundamentally the same: “to produce the world’s finest combat Infantrymen.”

On May 21, 1918, the Adjutant General’s Office appointed Col. Henry E. Eames to head a board of officers to meet at Fort Sill for the purpose of selecting a site for the Infantry School of Arms. Many sites across the country were considered, but most were disqualified based on severe winter climate, unsuitable terrain, remoteness, and excessive transportation costs. Initially, they decided on Fayetteville, N.C., but later settled on Columbus, Georgia after Fayetteville was taken as an artillery site.

On September 18, 1918, the Adjutant General directed that the Infantry School of Arms with all personnel, property, and equipment move to Columbus, Georgia by October 1 of that year. The first troops from Fort Sill arrived on October 6, 1918 and occupied a temporary camp three miles east of town on Macon Road. The next day the camp officially opened. At the request of the Columbus Rotary Club, the camp was named in honor of Confederate General Henry Lewis Benning, a Columbus native many thought was the area’s most outstanding Civil War officer.

The search for a permanent location for the camp settled on a plantation site south of Columbus owned by Mr. Arthur Bussey. The Bussey land featured the kind of terrain considered ideal for training Infantrymen. The plantation would serve as the core of the camp, and the large frame house, known as Riverside, would serve as quarters for a long line of commanders.

After years of struggling for appropriations and attention from the makers of Army policy, Benning enjoyed a construction boom in the mid-1930s as a result of Federal work projects during the great depression. The boom continued into the 1940s with the eruption of war in Europe.

Troop strength swelled with the arrival of the First Infantry Division and the establishment of the Officer Candidate School and Airborne training.

Fort Benning secured its final vestige of permanence during the 1950s. Infantry demonstrations became a common occurrence as the newest developments were unveiled to civilian and military leaders from home and abroad. The trend of instruction at the Infantry School became increasingly combined-arms oriented. In 1963, the 11th Air Assault Division was formed at Fort Benning to test the air assault concept that led to the airmobile concept of the First Cavalry Division.

As the post proved its significance locally, it began to make its mark nationally in the quality of the leaders it produced. The Infantry School has either trained in its officer courses or honed in its command structure some of the nation's most prominent military figures. Leaders like five-star generals Omar Bradley, Dwight Eisenhower, and George Marshall and others like George Patton and Colin Powell, learned their craft at Fort Benning.

With the Infantry, the Queen of Battle, as the nucleus, Fort Benning has added other significant missions as the years progressed. Among them, the Airborne School, where Soldiers learn to engage in battle from the sky; the Ranger School, where Soldiers learn advanced tactics and skills for warfare; and the 29th Infantry Regiment, where Soldiers learn how to operate and maneuver the Bradley fighting vehicle in combat. Fort Benning's 36th Engineer Group has been at the forefront of the Army's post-Cold War mission of providing aid. Fort Benning is on the cutting edge of future technology, with BattleLabs shaping the way the military of the 21st Century will fight its wars.

Generals and privates alike have shared the experience of learning the art of soldiering at the Home of the Infantry. They share the heritage that has evolved over the years to make our troops and our post second to none.

"I Am the Infantry, the Queen of Battle, Follow Me!"

NATIONAL INFANTRY MUSEUM

The National Infantry Museum at Fort Benning houses thousands of interesting and unique items and reflects the role played by Infantrymen in the defense of the nation. More than two hundred years of proud history are on display. The museum collections are continually growing. There are some 1,500 firearms ranging from a 16th century Spanish cannon, an early Japanese matchlock musket, and a Gatling gun to the nation's smallest atomic weapon, the Davy Crockett tactical missile. The museum has memorabilia of many distinguished Infantrymen and features temporary displays of contemporary artworks, military badges, and military equipment.

Located in Building 396 on Baltzell Avenue, admission to the National Infantry Museum is free, and it is open to the general public Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. The museum has established the Regimental Quartermaster Sales Store, a gift shop, for the convenience of our visitors.

The Army Song

Soldiers will stand at attention and sing along whenever the Army Song is played.

*First to fight for the right, and to build the Nation's might,
and the Army goes rolling along.
Proud of all we have done,
Fighting till the battle's won,
and the Army goes rolling along.*

*Then it's Hi! Hi! Hey! The Army's on its way.
Count off the cadence loud and strong!
For where'er we go, you will always know that the Army goes rolling along.*

The Infantry Song

The song of the United States Infantryman is the Infantry Song. All Soldiers assigned or attached to the United States Infantry Center will learn the Infantry Song. Please stand at attention whenever the song is played and sing the Infantry Song.

*You can hear it in the heat of the jungle,
You can hear it across the sea.
It calls to every freedom-loving man,
The cry of the U. S. Infantry:
Follow me! Follow me!*

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Fort Benning's Soldiers are professionals and members of many organizations that support the Army and its Soldiers.

1. The Chattahoochee-Fort Benning Chapter of the Association of the United States Army (AUSA) has several sub-chapters on post. The local chapter lends support in many ways to the Soldiers and units on Fort Benning in addition to supporting the National AUSA's goals of ensuring that the U. S. Army remains the preeminent land warrior force in the world.

2. The Noncommissioned Officer Association (NCOA) is active on Fort Benning and offers many programs to enhance the lives and careers of NCOs throughout all of the Armed forces.

3. The National Infantry Association (NIA) was formed in 1994 to give voice to the critical concerns of ground-pounding U. S. Infantrymen scattered across the globe. It strives to recognize outstanding Infantrymen through the Order of St. Maurice and to spread the true warrior spirit through many Association activities and support of the National Infantry Museum.

4. Fort Benning supports a growing and active Sergeant Audie Murphy Club (SAMC). The SAMC works to recognize and organize the best of the noncommissioned officers posted to Fort Benning to harness the skills, experiences, and motivation of these front-line leaders to improve our units, our post, and the nation's Army.

For more information on these organizations and others contact your unit's NCO support channel.

BEHAVIOR

All Soldiers at all times must conduct themselves in accordance with Army Regulations, the Uniform Code of Military Justice, and traditions of Army discipline and courtesy.

1. Military Discipline. "Military discipline is founded upon self-discipline, respect for properly constituted authority, and the embracing of the professional Army ethic with its supporting individual values. Military discipline will be developed by individual and group training to create a mental attitude resulting in proper conduct and prompt obedience to lawful military authority."

"While military discipline is the result of effective training, it is affected by every feature of military life. It is manifested in individuals and units by cohesion, bonding, and a spirit of teamwork; by smartness of appearance and action; by cleanliness and maintenance of dress, equipment, and quarters; by deference to seniors and mutual respect between senior and subordinate personnel; by the prompt and willing execution of both the letter and the spirit of the legal orders of their lawful commanders; and by fairness, justice, and equity for all Soldiers, regardless of race, religion, color, gender, and national origin” (AR 600-20).

2. Army Values. The Army values must guide us in all our actions. “These values tell you what you need to be, every day, in every action you take. Army values form the identity of the Army, the solid rock upon which everything else stands, especially in combat. They are the glue that binds together the members of a noble profession. As a result, the whole is much greater than the sum of its parts. Army values are nonnegotiable: they apply to everyone and in every situation throughout the Army. Army values remind us and tell the rest of the world—the civilian government we serve, the nation we protect, even our enemies—who we are and what we stand for. The trust Soldiers and DA civilians have for each other, and the trust the American people have in us, depends on how well we live up to Army values. They are the fundamental building blocks that enable us to discern right from wrong in any situation. Army values are consistent; they support one another. You can’t follow one value and ignore another” (FM 22-100). The Army values are:

Loyalty—Bear true faith and allegiance to the U.S. Constitution, the Army, your unit, and other Soldiers.

Duty—Fulfill your obligations.

Respect—Treat people as they should be treated.

Selfless Service—Put the welfare of the nation, the Army, and subordinates before your own.

Honor—Live up to all the Army values.

Integrity—Do what’s right—legally and morally.

Personal Courage—Face fear, danger, or adversity (physical or moral).

5. Obedience to Orders. “All persons in the military service are required to strictly obey and promptly execute the legal orders of their lawful seniors” (AR 600-20).

6. Military Courtesy. “Courtesy among members of the Armed Forces is vital to maintain military discipline. Respect to seniors will be extended at all times.” “The actions of military personnel will reflect respect to both the National Anthem and the National Colors. The courtesies listed in AR 600-25, Appendix A, should be rendered the National Colors and National Anthem at public events whether the Soldier is off or on duty, whether he or she is in or out of uniform. Intentional disrespect to the National Colors or National Anthem is conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline and discredits the military service” (AR 600-20).

a. When you meet an officer outside, salute as soon as you recognize that he or she is an officer (or if you are farther than about six steps away, wait until you are about six steps away, then salute).

b. Salute all officers in official vehicles identified by special plates or flags.

c. Salute only on command when in formation.

d. If in a group (not a formation), and an officer approaches, the first Soldier to recognize the officer calls the group to attention and all personnel salute.

e. If you approach an officer while you are double-timing alone, assume the quick-time march and render the hand salute. When the salute is returned, execute order arms and resume double-timing.

f. The salute is always initiated by the subordinate and is terminated only after acknowledgment by the individual being saluted.

g. Accompany the salute with an appropriate greeting such as, “Good morning/afternoon, sir/ma’am.”

h. Salutes are not required to be rendered by or to personnel who are driving or riding in privately owned vehicles.

i. Never render a salute with a noticeable object in your mouth or right hand.

j. If you are on detail and an officer approaches, salute if you are in charge of the detail. Otherwise, continue to work. If you are spoken to, then come to the position of attention.

k. When the flag is being raised in the morning, you should stand at attention on the first note of Reveille, face the flag or the music if you cannot see the flag, and render a hand salute. When the flag is being lowered in the evening, on the first note of Retreat, face the flag or the music, and stand at the position of attention if you are not in a formation. If you are in formation, the Soldier in charge will put the formation at parade rest. On the first note of "To the Colors," render a hand salute. If you are in formation, salute only on the order "Present arms." If you are in civilian clothing, stand at attention and place your right hand over your heart. Vehicles in motion should stop. If you are in a car or on a motorcycle, dismount and salute. If you are with a group in a military vehicle or bus, remain in the vehicle. The senior person in the vehicle will dismount and salute.

l. When you are passing or being passed by colors that are being presented, paraded, or displayed, salute when the colors are six paces from you. Hold the salute until the colors are six paces beyond you.

m. When talking to an officer, stand at attention unless given the order "At ease." When you are dismissed, or when the officer departs, come to attention and, if outdoors, salute. When talking to a noncommissioned officer of higher rank, stand at the position of parade rest unless given the order "At ease."

n. When an officer enters a room, the first Soldier to recognize the officer calls personnel in the room to attention, but does not salute. When a noncommissioned officer enters a room, the first Soldier to recognize the NCO calls personnel in the room to "At ease."

o. When walking with a senior in rank, walk on his left side.

p. When entering or exiting a vehicle, the junior ranking person is the first to enter, and the senior in rank is the first to exit.

q. When an officer enters a dining facility, unless he directs otherwise or unless a more senior officer is already present, the first person who sees the officer will order "At ease" for everyone in the dining facility. You will remain seated at ease and will continue eating unless the officer directs otherwise. If you are directly addressed, you should rise to attention if seated in a chair. If you are seated on a bench, stop eating and sit at attention until the conversation is ended. The officer or NCO may give the directive “Carry on,” which means the Soldier or Soldiers should continue with whatever they were doing previously.

r. When outdoors and approached by an NCO, you should stand (if seated), come to parade rest, and greet the NCO by saying, “Good morning (afternoon, evening) Sergeant (last name if known).”

7. Off-Duty Behavior. A professional Soldier is never off duty. He is always viewed as a representative of the Army whether he is in uniform or out of uniform. Soldiers must always abide by the standards of discipline and professionalism 24 hours a day.

8. Prohibited Relationships. Fort Benning has a large population of students attending training from Basic Training to Officer Advanced courses. Two sections from AR 600-20 apply to this situation:

a. “Trainee and Soldier relationships. Any relationship between permanent party personnel and IET trainees not required by the training mission is prohibited. This prohibition applies to permanent party personnel without regard to the installation of assignment of the permanent party member or the trainee.”

b. “Recruiter and recruit relationships. Any relationship between permanent party personnel assigned or attached to the United States Army Recruiting Command and potential prospects, applicants, members of the Delayed Entry Program (DEP), or members of the Delayed Training Program (DTP) not required by the recruiting mission is prohibited. This prohibition applies to United States Army Recruiting Command personnel without regard to the unit of assignment of the permanent party member and the potential prospects, applicants, DEP members, or DTP members.”

APPEARANCE

“The Army is a uniformed service where discipline is judged, in part, by the manner in which a Soldier wears a prescribed uniform, as well as by the individual’s personal appearance. Therefore, a neat and well-groomed appearance by all Soldiers is fundamental to the Army and contributes to building the pride and esprit essential to an effective military force. A vital ingredient of the Army’s strength and military effectiveness is the pride and self-discipline that American Soldiers bring to their service through a conservative military image. It is the responsibility of commanders to ensure that military personnel under their command present a neat and Soldierly appearance. Therefore, in the absence of specific procedures or guidelines, commanders must determine a Soldier’s compliance with standards in this regulation. Soldiers must take pride in their appearance at all times, in or out of uniform, on and off duty. Pride in appearance includes Soldiers’ physical fitness and adherence to acceptable weight standards, in accordance with AR 600–9” (AR 670-1).

1. Fort Benning Policy for Uniform Wear. AR 670-1 prescribes the authorized wear of Army uniforms by all Fort Benning Soldiers. Fort Benning Soldiers will wear identification tags (dog tags) at all times while in uniform, to include the physical fitness uniform. Commanders at all levels are responsible for ensuring Soldiers under their command wear the uniform correctly and present a neat and Soldierly appearance. The following prescribes Fort Benning’s military uniform wear policy.

a. Soldiers may wear the service (Class A or B) and dress uniforms off post at any time.

b. The Class C uniform, utility (BDU), is the normal duty uniform for most Soldiers assigned to Fort Benning. Soldiers may wear utility BDUs off post for personal business during the hours 0500 to 1900. The sleeves for the BDU will be worn down at all times.

c. The other Class C uniforms (food service, hospital duty, and aviator flight uniforms) may be worn off post during the duty day to eat breakfast and lunch, to purchase items at convenience stores/gas stations, and for other personal business that may be rapidly transacted (for example, vehicle registration, dry cleaning pick-up, car repair drop-off/pick-up). When wearing the Class C uniform for such business, it must be neat, clean, and serviceable. Soldiers wearing any Class C uniform may not consume alcohol at any off-post establishment.

d. Soldiers will not wear camouflage paint on the face and hands except during field training, demonstrations, or during movement to and from field training. Soldiers will not wear camouflage in any AAFEES facility.

e. The Class A uniform is the only appropriate uniform for wear in a courtroom, military or civilian, and at a funeral or other similar occasion. The Class A and B uniforms and BDUs are appropriate for wear off post to attend meetings or for any other business, military or personal.

f. Soldiers are prohibited from wearing the mechanic overalls or NOMEX (combat vehicle crewmen/aviator) uniforms off post except for travel between quarters and place of duty.

g. Soldiers in uniform will not smoke or eat while walking.

h. Name tapes attached to the ECWCS (Gore Tex parka) will be 1/2 inch wide and 3-1/2 inches long, with 1/4-inch block lettering. The name tapes will hold up to 14 characters and be attached to the pocket flap on the left sleeve of the parka. The only authorized cloth insignias of grade are sewn on a loop and slipped over the front tab or pin-on. Insignias with hook-pile tape fasteners are no longer authorized for wear.

i. The camelback (camouflage/black/OD green only) is authorized for wear in training areas. As a guide, the camelback will only be worn in a training situation requiring canteens. However the camelback will not replace the canteen.

j. Headgear is worn as prescribed herein:

(1) The black, tan, and maroon berets are authorized for wear by the CTA. All berets are authorized for wear with the Class A, B, and C uniforms.

(a) Face camouflage paint will not be worn with the beret.

(b) The Class A and B uniform trousers will not be bloused while wearing the black beret with the exception of the MPs and students from the 101st ABN DIV.

(c) The black beret will not be worn in DFACs by mess personnel with the exception of the manager (NCOIC). The food handlers cap (CTA 50-900) is the only headgear authorized for wear by DFAC personnel when preparing and serving food.

(d) The beret will not be worn en route to or from the field. Drop zones are considered the field.

(e) The beret is worn so that the headband (edge binding) is straight across the forehead, 1 inch above the eyebrows. The flash is positioned over the left eye and the excess material is draped over to the right ear extending to at least the top of the ear and no lower than the middle of the ear. Personnel will cut off the ends of the adjusting ribbon and secure the ribbon knot inside the edge binding at the back of the beret. When worn properly, the beret is formed to the shape of the head; therefore, Soldiers may not wear hairstyles that cause distortion of the beret.

(2) Commanders may prescribe the patrol cap (formerly the BDU cap) for wear in the field, on deployments, or on work details. The only authorized item for wear on the BDU field cap is the appropriate grade insignia.

(a) Enlisted personnel wear subdued grade insignia on the patrol caps, the desert patrol hat, and cold-weather utility caps. The grade insignia is centered on the front of the headgear, left to right and top to bottom.

(b) Officers will wear non-subdued grade insignia when in a garrison environment and subdued insignia when in a field environment.

(c) Chaplains wear non-subdued branch insignia in a garrison environment and subdued branch insignia in a field environment.

(d) Commanders are not authorized to add nametags, cat eyes, qualification tabs, and so forth. The Ranger Training Brigade and Light Leaders Course cadre, and 75th Ranger Regiment Soldiers may wear nametags, cat eyes, and qualification tabs while in the training area.

(e) Patrol caps worn outside a field environment will conform to AR 670-1 standards.

(3) Black and red caps are authorized by the commanding general and can be worn on post in the Airborne training areas, in transit to and from training and quarters, or for quick stops at facilities on post going to and from training. For appointments or other normal business on post, Airborne Soldiers will wear their berets.

(4) All Soldiers will wear the Kevlar helmet when operating or riding in tactical vehicles (HMMWV and larger) on Fort Benning. This includes vehicles being operated in the cantonment area of Main Post, Sand Hill, Kelley Hill, Harmony Church, and so forth. No vehicle operator will operate a tactical vehicle outside of the motor pool without appropriate protective headgear regardless of the distance the vehicle is traveling.

k. Soldiers, whether on duty or off, will wear the physical fitness uniform (PFU) or improved physical fitness uniform (IPFU) (or the BDU for selected activities) for physical fitness training during PT hours (0530 to 0730) on duty days, to include organized unit athletics. Soldiers must comply with AR 670-1 for proper wear. The biking shorts or equivalent (black or gray) are optional and Soldiers do not have to purchase these items.

(1) The PFU and IPFU are authorized for wear on and off duty, on and off the installation. The PFU and IPFU are authorized for wear in transit between an individual's quarters and duty station. Soldiers may wear all or parts of the PFU or IPFU off the installation.

(2) Soldiers may not mix items from the PFU with items from the IPFU.

2. Hair and Fingernail Standards and Grooming Policies (AR 670-1).

a. Hair.

(1) Male haircuts will conform to the following standards:

(a) The hair on top of the head must be neatly groomed. The length and bulk of the hair may not be excessive or present a ragged, unkempt, or extreme appearance. The hair must present a tapered appearance. A tapered appearance is one where the outline of the Soldier's hair conforms to the shape of the head, curving inward to the natural termination point at the base of the neck. When the hair is combed, it will not fall over the ears or eyebrows, or touch the collar, except for the closely cut hair at the back of the neck. In all cases, the bulk or length of hair may not interfere with the normal wear of headgear or protective masks or equipment.

(b) Males will keep their face clean-shaven when in uniform or in civilian clothes on duty. If appropriate medical authority prescribes beard growth, the length required for medical treatment must be specified. For example, “The length of the beard will not exceed 1/4 inch.” Soldiers will keep the growth trimmed to the level specified by appropriate medical authority, but they are not authorized to shape the growth into goatees, or into “Fu Manchu” or handlebar mustaches.

(2) Female haircuts will conform to the following standards:

(a) Females will ensure their hair is neatly groomed, that the length and bulk of the hair are not excessive, and that the hair does not present a ragged, unkempt, or extreme appearance. Females may wear braids and cornrows as long as the braided style is conservative, the braids and cornrows lie snugly on the head, and any hair-holding devices comply with the standards in AR 670-1, paragraph 1–8a(3)(d). Dreadlocks (unkempt, twisted, matted individual parts of hair) are prohibited in uniform or in civilian clothes on duty. Hair will not fall over the eyebrows or extend below the bottom edge of the collar at any time during normal activity or when standing in formation. Long hair that falls naturally below the bottom edge of the collar, to include braids, will be neatly and inconspicuously fastened or pinned, so no free-hanging hair is visible. This includes styles worn with the PFU/IPFU.

(b) Females will ensure that hairstyles do not interfere with proper wear of military headgear and protective masks or equipment at any time. When headgear is worn, the hair will not extend below the bottom edge of the front of the headgear, nor will it extend below the bottom edge of the collar.

b. Cosmetics. Males are prohibited from wearing cosmetics, to include nail polish. Females are authorized to wear cosmetics with all uniforms, provided they are applied conservatively and in good taste and complement the uniform.

c. Fingernails. All personnel will keep fingernails clean and neatly trimmed. Males will keep nails trimmed so as not to extend beyond the fingertip. Females will not exceed a nail length of 1/4 inch, as measured from the tip of the finger. Females will trim nails shorter if the commander determines that the longer length detracts from the military image, presents a safety concern, or interferes with the performance of duties.

d. Hygiene and Body Grooming. Soldiers will maintain good personal hygiene and grooming on a daily basis and wear the uniform so as not to detract from their overall military appearance.

e. Tattoo Policy. Tattoos or brands that are visible in a Class A uniform (worn with slacks/trousers) are prohibited. Tattoos or brands that are extremist, indecent, sexist, or racist are prohibited, regardless of location on the body, as they are prejudicial to good order and discipline within units.

3. Uniform Appearance and Fit. All personnel will maintain a high standard of dress and appearance. Uniforms will fit properly—trousers, pants, or skirts should not fit tightly. Personnel must keep uniforms clean and serviceable and press them as necessary.
